PERFUME NIGHT

By Carole Bess White

Several PROG members attended either all or part of the International Perfume Bottle Association convention in Portland in April, and our Perfume Night was their opportunity to show off pieces that they bought there, as well as other members' items from their collections.

The two main areas of perfume collecting are Commercial (bottles and containers with manufacturers' labels that were sold full of product) and Vanity Top (empty bottles and containers one would buy to hold their separately-purchased product).

Some of the highlights included:

Barbara Coleman—blue Czech bottle with perfectly-fitting stopper; Czech clear bottle; Czech stopper; from eBay an IRICE set made in Czechoslovakia; Imperial “Duchess” bottle and stopper made to mimic the Czech “Zippered Heart” pattern; Fenton blue overlay “Melon” set; Japanese pink satin IRICE bottle; a French Waltersperger 1960s satin glass bottle with a butterfly stopper; L.E. Smith “Beaded Medallion” bottle.

Ginny David—Bourjois “Evening in Paris” items because her mother wore that fragrance, and their blue and silver colors match the livery of the company's racehorses; laydown Czech bottle; Victorian cranberry cut to clear bottle in metal holder; Victorian satin glass bottle with enamel flowers in metal holder; Moser bottle with graduated color and enamel decoration; Swarovski “Oriental” flacon; Queen Victoria commemorative bottle.

Diane Foster—tray and perfumes by Imperial; IRICE bottle from West Germany; EAPG cologne bottle; candle-shaped bottle; kohl bottle; engraved bottle; Matson bottle; ebony bottle.

Kate Fuller—Gallé cameo glass atomizer.

Gyrid Hyde-Towle—blue opaline bottle; French Lalique bottle she received when she was five years old.

Rosemary Joslin—myrtlewood bottle; “White Shoulders” bottle; Lancôme “Poème” bottle from Macy's.

Donna Miller—milk glass with blue polka dots IRICE; two Duvelle bottles. Duvelle was a Portland, Oregon company in business from 1925 to the 1960s.

Sandra Millius—“Fragrance in the Air” bottle from 1912; Gigli “Romeo” bottle; Rogers & Gallet fragrance in a Lalique bottle; Salvador Dali figural “Lips & Nose” bottle; Paloma Picasso bottle; Anais Anais “Blue Hat” bottle; Nina Ricci green satin glass “Belles” bottle in box; Bvlgari bottle in box; two mini Prince Matchabelli bottles in a hatbox.

WATERFORD CRYSTAL WITH JOI SHERVEY & SUZANNE LEMON

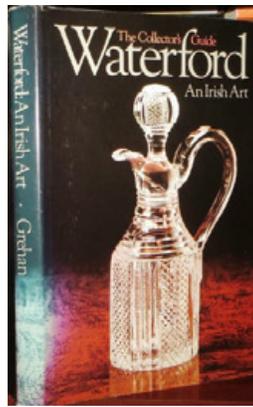

The first record of a glasshouse in the area around the town of Waterford, Ireland, comes from an ad in the 1729 Dublin Journal. Irish glass companies in the Waterford area opened and closed many times, and by the end of the 19th Century there were no more glasshouses in Ireland.

In the 20th Century, Irish glasshouses made bottles, containers and “everyday glasses,” but when they wanted to make fine crystal in Waterford, they had to start from scratch. In 1947, Czech immigrant Charles Bacik and designer Miroslav Havel hired 30 displaced European blowers, cutters and craftsmen to come to Ireland to make crystal and train Irish apprentices.

After several openings, closings and ownerships, in 2010 Fiskars, a Finnish Company, acquired all assets including the Waterford, Wedgwood, Royal Doulton, Royal Albert and Rogaška brands. Nowadays most Waterford crystal is produced in Slovenia, the Czech Republic, Hungary and Germany.

Joi and Suzanne showed many items from their collections of Waterford including “Tyrone,” “Colleen,” and “Tramore” pieces, and other members brought items as well. Joi showed a bowl cut by a Waterford master cutter, a special limited edition that the factory used to put out every year. Ed Martin brought—no surprise here—a crystal duck, and Gyrid Hyde-Towle brought a vase.

Joi used the book “Waterford, An Irish Art” for her research.

SHOW AND TELL

PHOTOS BY NEAL SKIBINSKI

Leslie Anderson—Jeannette beverage set on tray; Fostoria Baroque candleholders; candleholders with attached bobeches.

Kate Fuller—Egermann amber cut to clear cone vase, either Czech or Bohemian.

Gyrid Hyde-Towle—large EAPG covered comport; German Bauhaus reissue of a Wilhelm Wagenfeld pitcher, in box.

Joi Shervey—Northwood Grape & Cable Carnival Glass bowl.

Linda Sprau—red glass cone vase, probably Italian; Murano glass pear with paper label.

BOARD ELECTION RESULTS AND BYLAWS CHANGES

Thanks to Bylaws Committee Chairman Mable Hardebeck, Dennis Headrick and Gyrid Hyde-Towle for serving as our Elections Committee.

At our June 21 Annual Meeting, three members were re-elected to the Board: Gyrid Hyde-Towle, Sandra Martin and Neal Skibinski. Mark Moore will remain on the Board as Convention Director, which is a voting position. As per PROG's Bylaws, the Board will elect officers at the July meeting.

Four changes to our bylaws were voted on and approved:

- 1) The current number of Board of Directors members will be reduced from twelve to nine.
- 2) The President shall preside at meetings; call special meetings; appoint committee heads with approval of the Board of Directors; and co-sign all contracts as directed by the Board of Directors. The President shall be an ex-officio member of all committees except the Nominating Committee. The President shall see that all resolutions of the Board of Directors are carried into effect.
- 3) The Board of Directors moves that the membership approve its recommendations that the currently elected Directors continue on the Board with all voting rights until the end of their terms, which will result in the gradual reduction to the new Board membership level over the next two years.
- 4) The Board of Directors moves that the membership approve its recommendations that the Bylaws be amended to include the changes recommended by the Board and approved by the membership on this 21st day of June, 2016.

PROG'S FIRST GOLDEN GAVEL AWARD PRESENTED TO AL & CAROL CARDER

PORTLAND'S RAIN OF GLASS GOLDEN GAVEL AWARD

GIVEN IN APPRECIATION OF
EXCELLENT AUCTIONEERING
DISTINGUISHED SERVICE
GENEROUS DONATIONS
TO

AL & CAROL CARDER
MAY 20, 2016

Al and Carol Carder received a special new award at the annual Glass Collectors Convention in May—the “Golden Gavel.” The award was presented in recognition of their continuous support and contributions since becoming PROG members in 1991.

Their love of antique and vintage glass was perhaps fostered by the fact that Al was born and raised in West Virginia—also the birthplace of many glass companies!

The award recognizes the service Al has provided to PROG as auctioneer at our many events, enticing higher bids with his humor, cajoling and expertise.

In addition, Al and Carol have donated countless glass items to our auctions and fundraisers, even specifically purchasing many pieces as they traveled across the country.

They have been “anchor dealers” at our annual Rain of Glass Sale for many years. They have opened their lovely home to club picnics and meetings, and they have shared their wealth of knowledge with us.

Al has spoken twice at the Glass Collectors Convention. In 2002 he presented “Colors Along the River 1940s-1970s,” and in 2009 he and Ray Bruneau presented “Modern Italian Glass.”

Al and Carol continue to be involved in PROG activities, and they continue to share their expertise.

With all of the above, there is only one thing left to say—
